DECLARING THE MAJOR

You may declare the Major in Theater and Performance Studies after passing two required lower-division courses: one practice course and one performance studies course. Refer to guide.berkeley.edu for details about the major.

ELECTIVE REQUIREMENTS

Majors must take at least 24 upper-division units in TDPS (including the above requirements). Usually, three elective courses are enough to meet this requirement. Majors are encouraged to create a focus for elective courses. See the other side of this sheet for details.
INTEGRATE YOUR STUDIES WITH ELECTIVE CAPSTONE COURSES

Students can further deepen their studies by applying for Capstone experiences. These are self-initiated learning opportunities to expand research and teaching experiences with the guidance of faculty mentors. Speak with the Undergraduate Academic Advisor about how to design one of these experiences, and refer to the Capstones page on the TDPS website for details and proposal applications.

SAMPLE CAPSTONE COURSES

195A Honors Thesis
195B Honors Essay and Production
196 University Theater Workshop
197 Field Studies in Technical Theater (Internship)
198 Directed Group Study (Teaching A DeCal Course)
199 Supervised Independent Study and Research

ENSENCHING YOUR TDPS ELECTIVE EXPERIENCE

DEVELOP A FOCUS IN UPPER-DIVISION ELECTIVE COURSES

Most TDPS students develop a focus as they select upper-division elective courses. A focus is not required and some students choose to take a wide range of upper-division classes in order to gain breadth in their experience. The focus areas below are examples of how to go deeper. Students may also augment their knowledge by taking elective classes in other theatrical disciplines when offered: Choreography, Directing, Playwriting, Scenic Design, Sound Design, or Collaborative Innovation.
